YOUNG BLADES CUT A DASH AT RACE LAUNCH

It was a racy affair as celebrities sped to the BladeRun send-off party at Henry Moore Gallery in London's Royal College of Art. More than 500 guests splashed down at the launch of the cross-channel motorboating rally, heralded by organisers as the "Gumball Rally on water". Launched just last year, it has already more than tripled in size and looks set to make waves on the social calendar by attracting a raft of sporty celebrities. Among guests who turned up to toast daredevil participants with a glass of Veuve Clicquot and admire the sleek speedboats on display were TV presenter Giles Vickers Jones, Rick Parfitt Jr and polo star Jack Kidd, who also took part in the four-day race.
